

blackclouds #2

i saw my reflection it wasn't dark and tall then i saw a man who saw nothing at all and i felt small would he like what he'd see if he was unblind and looked like me all the hard cover books and their pages that easily fold sometimes the things hardest to say are best left untold and all of these blackclouds are lined with gold half empty looks half full to me after all the rain the trees agree that all of these blackclouds are lined with gold

I saw my reflection it's not tall then I saw a man with no legs at all
and I felt small
would he like to be standing here beside me
