

plane's eye view

i didn't stay to see the plane take off i didn't want to see you go by the time I was half way home i was half way through your song but you're not here to hear your song my world is crashing, and i'm falling too seems the world's getting bigger from this plane's eye view i didn't stay to see the end of the film i just stayed to hold your side the ending hit me as I left the room i didn't want anyone to see me cry you're not here to see me cry pilot's light is flashing, a strange shade of you.

seems the world's getting bigger from this plane's eye view

see the world through an old pair of 3d glasses close the one eye and the world is rosy through the other it's blue i didn't stay to see the sun go down i didn't wait for the moon there's always somewhere that I'd rather be like with you in my room you're not here in my room can you still see me?

can you still see me from your plane's eye view?