

raining again

it's raining
outside again
it so unfair
well that's what we said
stuck inside
with lego machines
paper and pens
star wars figurines

why do you cry? why don't you try to leave?
say your good-byes pack up your lies and leave
come back home for me

christmas day
rolls round again
you're moving away
i'm losing a friend.

why do you cry? why don't you try to leave?
say your good-byes pack up your lies and leave
come back home for me

now that your gone
the drums don't work anymore
they sit there alone
on the floor
so i play alone
there's no one next-door

why do you cry? why don't you try to leave?
say your good-byes pack up your lies and leave
come back home for me
you say you're alright but I know what I see.
you don't look that high to me

it's raining outside again